

"My initial exposure to Audio Visual Experts was when they implemented an extensive installation throughout an office building. As a result of that exposure, I have engaged them on two separate occasions, both of which required significant effort bringing systems through walls, basement and attic. In both cases the work performed was of the highest caliber and conducted with the utmost level of professionalism.

As further testament to their work, I have not hesitated to refer them to a number of individuals including my son, various neighbors and my Daughter's future in-laws. Each of them had the same experience that I had and in turn referred them on to others.

James, Matt and the rest of their team are truly experts in the Audio/Visual field and the name of their company reflects their ability. If you have a need for advice and/or installation these are the folks to talk to."
